ALEX. GAZETTE & VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.
(FOR THE COUNTRY.)
Published regularly on TUESDAYS, THURSDAYS and SATURDAYS, at FIVE DOLLARS PER ANNUM, payable in advance.

OLD CHINA.—There is a perfect mania in England, which finds some disciples in this country, for the gathering up of collections of old china. Everybody who has a superabundance of money must have a hobby of some kind, and at present the fashionable hobby is old Sevres ware, which is being sold at auction in London at fabulous prices. A small cabinet collection of not over a score of vases, dishes and cups was sold in London the other day, and realized over $70,000 in gold. A couple of vases, about a foot high, with "Rose du Barry" foliage, brought $32,500; a pair of fan-shaped flower holders were sold for $9,000, and a single specimen of the same kind of ornament brought $3,500. The sale in question does not seem to have been a very remarkable one, so that the figures are probably not considered fancy ones by connoisseurs in the business. These "ancient" specimens are well known in Paris to be manufactured for the London market. Scores of establishments are to be found on every square, piled up with old antiquated furniture and specimens of china, in most of which an English connoisseur can be seen gazing about among the dust and cobwebs. There must be thousands of these establishments, and probably very few of the pieces of "ancient" Sevres were exposed for sale has any greater age than the time it has been on the shelves of these old junk shops.

PAYING THE PIPER.—Gen. Wolsley, the late victorious leader of the English in the Ashantee, the most powerful kingdom of Western Africa, is a rising military character in the British empire. His services are highly appreciated by his government. He will not only be promoted to a Major Generalship, but will receive an annual pension of $37,500, gold value. This will give him about $850 in gold per week, for life. Should he live for forty years to come, his emoluments from the late campaign will aggregate $1,700,000, not counting the interest. As money doubles every 10 years, and as he is to receive salary and pension as he goes, should they double only once in 40 years, that would increase the figure to $3,400,000. The expenses of the Ashantee campaign are officially announced at $4,000,000. Gen. Wolsley's presence at Ashantee must, therefore, eventually cost the British government almost as much as all the remainder of the expedition. Placing his emoluments at $1,700,000, and the other expenses of the expedition at $4,000,000, and we have a total of $5,700,000. Gen. Wolsley's pay will just be $100 per day for every day in the week except Sunday, and $250 for Sunday, while the pay of the soldier who took part in the campaign will be about a shilling a day.—Lynchburg News.

A PAYMASTER'S LUCK.—The House committee on military affairs has passed a favorable report in the case of the late paymaster C. S. Underwood. The facts are as follows: Maj. Underwood was sent to Baltimore in Feb., 1865 to pay off a Michigan regiment. He arrived late in the afternoon, and took rooms at the Rutaw House. As the regiment was to leave Baltimore early the next morning, he was occupied nearly all night in paying off the men. In the afternoon of the next day he took the box containing his money from the hotel safe, and carried it to his room for the purpose of paying off the brigade band which was momentarily expected. The band took coming, he went to sleep, leaving the box in charge of his clerk. The clerk locked the door and left the room for about twenty minutes, and when he returned the money was gone. The amount lost was over $8,000. No blame was ever attached to Underwood in the matter, and the action of the House committee wipes out the deficit in his accounts. The matter is now before the Senate committee on military affairs, and will be agreed to by that committee.

THE RENT question is one of peculiar interest at this season. Prices in New York, we are told, will be much less than formerly for houses which have rented for more than $4,000, owing to the deduction of large incomes and the necessity of prudence in expenditure. For houses which have rented for from $3,000 to $4,000 a year, there has been in some cases a reduction of ten per cent., though rates in the class are not definitely fixed. For houses of moderate price, renting from $1,200 to $2,800 a year, the demand is greater than the supply. People in the immediate vicinity of Fifth Avenue are going farther east and west to secure more reasonable accommodations, and Brooklyn and the suburban towns of New Jersey and Westchester county seem to be profiting by the economical tendencies of residents of the metropolis.

"PRIVATE BOX."—The Boston Transcript describes the private box of Mr. A. T. Stewart at Niblo's Garden, which is said to equal in style, size and convenience the box of any crowned head in Europe. It consists of a suite of four rooms, a large parlor, dressing room, and box. They are richly carpeted and curtained, and the parlor has immense mirrors and one of the finest cut glass chandeliers in the city. The dressing room has every appearance of the toilet, and his box is filled with luxurious Turkish chairs covered with crimson satin. A dance can be indulged in between the acts, if the orchestra be playing, or a supper served from the Metropolitan Hotel, just across the court.

BOMBAY.—Washington Irving has been the occasion of a frightful riot in Bombay. His "Life of Mahomet" has lately been translated under Parsian auspices into Oriental dialects, and some portions of it aroused the more fanatical sects of the Mohammedans to great rage. The translator withdrew the edition, but this did not appease the Mussulmans, who suddenly attacked the Parsians in the streets and in their houses. Before the police could quell the assault an immense amount of damage had been done to the property of Parsian residents by plunder and destruction, though so far as known no lives were lost.

THE SANBORN AFFAIR.—The important feature of the testimony given Wednesday before the Ways and Means Committee in regard to the Sanborn contracts is the statement of Solicitor Baileigh in regard to the connection of Secretaries Richardson and Sawyer with the contracts. His evidence contradicts that given by them, and upon one point he makes a direct issue with Sawyer. It is also interesting in showing that Sawyer interested himself in Sanborn's behalf while he was still in the Senate and before he went into the Treasury Department.
